

Filtration

Lubrafil

Flexible thinking, solid solutions

Marine business: It is only in recent times that nations have begun to recognize the size, diversity and complexity of the ocean industries and their importance to us all.

To many people, "Marine" means "Shipping", which is a vital activity. Indeed, 90% of the World's trade by tonnage is moved by water-borne traffic. To keep ships on course filtration is an important consideration. For this you need a reliable partner: Lubrafil.

Lubrafil: Total Filtration Service

It was within the Rotterdam Port area that Lubrafil started to build a reputation of a name synonymous with filtration. For over 40 years we have been attending ships to advise on specific applications that are essential to ship owners to keep their business running. Practical experience, sense of urgency and the heart for the business, has made it possible to grow from a local to an international supplier, serving a substantial customer base daily.

From day one, Lubrafil developed a special relationship with Boll & Kirch, a reputable manufacturer with a market leading position in automatic self-cleaning filters for the treatment of fuel, lube oil and water. Today, we have a comprehensive portfolio of filtration products with more than 30 brands available. In the Marine business, you cannot afford to do things on the 'off-chance'. The right solution is what counts above all else.

Application of Boll & Kirch filters in a 2-stroke engine lube oil system

We are on your wave-length

As already said, we don't have a shot at your requirements but take your needs very seriously.

The right Product

Our extensive warehouse stocks the products that are widely applied in marine application. We honour the key-word availability, but also never forget the price / quality principle. Our Cross-Reference Database facilitates the match of original brands with equivalent products of comparable or higher quality at very attractive prices.

The right Service and Maintenance

As the exclusive distributor of Boll & Kirch products, we supply genuine BOLLFILTER spare parts. We give technical support and service, either on call or on regular contract basis. Our factory-trained service engineers have expert knowledge of all Boll & Kirch filters that are applied to ships. In all respects, you can count on us.

Lubrafil, your partner for:

- Consultancy
- Commissioning
- Key Supply
- Ultrasonic element cleaning
- Reconditioning

In all respects, you can count on us

Flexible thinking, solid solutions

