01

The establishment of Shanghai Yuechang Power Co., Ltd. was not accomplished overnight. Through careful planning and strategic layout, it has successfully acquired a number of influential companies in the field of ship spare parts. In this process, Yuechang Power not only integrates the advanced technology and management experience of these companies, but also includes the core team and excellent talents of these companies. Such integration makes Yuechang Power has a strong technical strength and service ability at the beginning of its establishment.
